THE great Veneration
I have for Your Lordship, and the Favours
You have conferr'd
upon me, oblige me to present

The Dedication.

You with this short Historical Account of the many Acts of Piety and Munificence bestowed on the Church of Winton, by its Antient and Noble Founders the West Saxon Kings, soon after their embracing Christianity ; and of the great Liberalities, in Process of time, of several of Your Predecessors in this See ; who were not only Benefactors to the Church, but Patrons of Arts and Sciences, and have erected Colleges for the Encouragement of Learning.

To preserve the Memory of those great Names, is the Motive that I ask the Patronage of the Best of Prelates, a Title your Lord-

The Dedication.

Lordship hath most justly acquired by Your Love to Your Country, Your steady Zeal for the Preservation of our happy Constitution in Church and State, and, if I may have leave to add, by Your suffering at a Time, when both were threatned with impending Ruin. Nor hath Your Lordship fallen short of any of Your Predecessors in the Pastoral Care of Your See.

And for Your Liberality, I may appeal to the ornamental Reparations of the Episcopal Palace at Wolvesey.

The Dedication.

My Lord,

I take this Opportunity of congratulating Your Lordship on the auspicious Prospect of better Days, not only to the Nation in general, but to the Church of England in particular; whilst we behold a King, descended from the Royal Race of the Saxons, Great, Wise, and Good, adorning the British Throne, and following their Illustrious Steps.

We see with pleasure an earnest of this, in His Majesties most gracious Promise to encourage and perfect the Building and Endowing Fifty New Churches

The Dedication.

Churches in and about the Cities of London and Westminster, begun by our late Pious Queen: A Work in which the Honour of the Church of England, and the Advancement of our Holy Religion, are so much concerned, as the King hath been pleas'd out of his unparallel'd Goodness very lately to express himself. And if one may judge from those already advanc'd, the Emporium of Britain will have reason to boast of so many Sacred Structures, adorn'd with a regular Architecture, and which might become the Reign of an Augustus.

The Dedication.

That Your Lordship may continue to govern the Church
committed to Your Charge

Labours, is the ardent Desire

PREFACE.

THE following Book owes its first Foundation to a small Manuscript preserved amongst other Papers of the late HENRY Earl of CLARENDON, bearing this Title:

Some Account of the Tombs and Monuments in the Cathedral Church of Winchester, finish'd this 17th Day of February, 1683.

By me H. CLARENDON.

To which there is now added, a Continuation of all the Inscriptions in the Church to this Time, and the Succession of the Bishops, Priors, Deans, and other Digni-

PREFACE.

Dignitaries, from the Registers of this Church, with the History of the Abbey of Hyde, writ by a very Learned Antiquary.

The Work being thus far advanc'd, I very readily contributed such Historical Collections as I had by me, relating to the Church of Winton; and which I hope may give some light into the Antiquity of the Fabrick. The Charters belonging to this Church, kept in the Tower of London, being large and numerous, it would have been a tedious Undertaking to transcribe them; therefore I have here given such a methodical Catalogue of them, that they may be resorted to with the greatest Facility in the Record-Office. For these I am obliged to the Favour of Mr. G. HOLMES, Deputy Record-Keeper of the Tower; as I am also for the Draughts of several of the Monuments, &c. to others my very good Friends.

PREFACE.

I must now take occasion to mention the antient Story of LUCIUS, the first Christian King of the Britains, his founding and largely endowing the Church of Winton, by his turning a Heathen Temple into a Christian Church, and substituting a Bishop and Monks in the Room of a Flamen and Pagan Priests, about the Year CLXIX. which being a Matter of much Uncertainty, and to give it the fairest Plea, only a Tradition, I have omitted, in the subsequent History; rather chusing to pass it over in silence, than to build on so weak a Basis. For as to the Time of King LUCIUS's Conversion, by the Mission from ELUTHERIUS the XIIth Bishop of Rome, at that King's Desire, there is no Agreement amongst our Historians. Venerable BEDE placeth it about the Year CLVI; but he writ his History above Five Hundred Years after the Time when King LUCIUS is said to have lived: And GILDAS, the most antient of all the British Historians, who writ near Two Hundred Years before

BEDE

PREFACE.

BEDE (and one would think, should know more of the Affairs of his own Country than those who in other Matters write after him) hath not one Word of any such Person as LUCIUS; but on the contrary makes it appear, that Christianity was received in this Island more early; and even in the Reign of the Emperor NERO. Indeed GEFREY of Monmouth, and others after him, make King LUCIUS to have done so many things, to have Founded and Endowed so many Churches (besides this of Winton;) and with such improbable Circumstances, that they render this Part of the British History very doubtful and suspicious.

The following Passage from the Annals of Winton I thought more proper to insert here, than in the History. p. 312 X

This Accident of the burning the Church of St. SWITHUN, as here described, I think cannot be taken to comprehend the total Devastation of the Fabrick, but only the Roof or upper Part, of Timber; for so the Word supra signifies. And there are several antient Monuments entire to this Day, in and about the East Part of the Church or Choir (the Antiquity of which I would vindicate) that were erected long before the Date of this Conflagration. Nor do I find the least Notice taken of any Reparations in this Part of the Church, from the Time of its Foundation in the Reign of the Conqueror, till RICHARD FOX, Bishop of this See, in the Reign of King HENRY the Seventh, beautified and cover'd the old Choir and Side Isles, with a fair Arch of Stone, and other curious Workmanship; and where his *Arms are still to be seen carv'd in several Places. As for the repairing the Timber Roof that was burn'd, we may easily suppose that to have been soon done; it being but an inconsiderable Business, when compar'd to the vast Works of those Times, and not worth mentioning. But to put this Matter out of Dispute, the above cited Annals relate, that in 1268, which is but four Years after the Fire, NICHOLAS DE ELY, the new Bishop of Winton, was received there, with a solemn Procession intbroned, and that Missam solenniter celebravit, which I think could not well have been done, had not the Roof of the Fabrick been already repaired; much less if the whole was in Ruins: Neither can it be suppos'd, that such a stately Fabrick could be built from the Ground, and finish'd in so short a Time. The Building of the North and South Cross of the Church may very probably have risen from the Reparations made by GODFREY DE LUCY, Bishop of this See, a little after the Year 1202. or by

4 The History and Antiquities of the
may yet trace out their Magnificence, their Love to their Country, their immense Charity, their Piety, and Devotion, in those stupendous and no less beautiful Structures, which they erected and dedicated to the Service of God and Religion, in which no Nation exceeds us. And which neither various Revolutions, nor Wars, nor Time it self (ever injurious to Monuments) has yet been able to demolish, but they still remain to us, rather to be admired than possibly imitated. And whether we consider their Architecture, or their Number,
it is to be lamented, that in so copious a Subject, so few Writers have been employed, that to this Day many of our Cathedral Churches have lain in such Obscurity, as to have had no particular Notice taken of them, and should this incurious Humour prevail, Posterity might justly deplore our Negligence and the Want of those Antiquities we so slightly esteem. Much Time

Cathedral Church of Winchester. 5

Time has been already lost, and their Beauty extreamly diminished, as well as Numberless Records of their Foundations and Endowments, perished beyond Retrieve, both by the Reformation, and the unhappy Civil Wars. And if timely Care is not taken, the Remains both of one and the other, may undergo the same Fate. Amongst all the Sacred Temples of our Country, the Cathedral Church of Winchester presents it self with a most surprizing Grandeur. It rises with such a venerable Aspect that one no sooner sees it, but he is struck with a religious Awe.

But before I come to treat particularly of this Church, it may not be amiss to give two or three Remarks concerning the City of Winchester, where our Church to this Day flourisheth.

6 The History and Antiquities of the

This City is undoubtedly one of the most antient in Britain. * PTOLEMY mentions it by the Name of Οὐέντα, Venta. The Romans, while they governed here, more distinctly Venta Belgarum. As appears by the Itinerary, and that this was one of their Stations (probably a City) the Roman Coins and Ruins of Baths, discovered not long since in repairing the Castle, do sufficiently evince.

Upon the Decay of the Roman Empire in Britain, the Saxons took Possession of it, and made it the Royal Seat of the West Saxon Kings, and called it, Ƴintancearȝen. Which Names are easily derived from the British Caer-Gwent, i. e. White City, it being situated in a White, Chalky Soil. The Learned CAMDEN has so accurately described this City, that I shall only farther mention that it is honoured with a Royal Palace, began by King CHARLES the 11^d, of a regular Architecture consisting of a magnificent Front, with Pavilions in Brick, adorned with Columns of the Corinthian Order. Which by its Situation on a + very high Hill, and the Ruins of the old Castle, enjoys a fine Air, and a glorious Prospect over the City, and adjacent Country. May we not hope, his Majesty King GEORGE, will finish this House, and make it again the Royal Residence of the Saxon Kings.

Descending from the Palace, I now again revisit the Church, in Order to take a nearer View of it.

As to its Origin, our Historians agree, that Christianity flourished here

8 The History and Antiquities of the
in the Time of the Romans, and that there were several Churches and Monasteries erected to the Honour and Service of God by the British Converts who lived under them. Accordingly we find Mention of a College of Monks at Winton, from whence CONSTANS was taken, and declared Emperor by his Father CONSTANTIN, who meerly from the Hopes of his Name, was saluted Emperor, and successfully opposed HONORIUS, A. C.
408. And 'tis not improbable, that those vast || Ruins of old Walls, in which are several Windows still to be seen at the West end of the Cathedral, are the Remains of this very College. How long this Monastery and Church might have continued in Splendour, under the Christian Britains, is impossible to determine, but I look upon it to be a

|| CENWALCH succeeding him in the Kingdom, A. C. DCXLIII. commanded a Noble Church to be build^d, and gave and confirmed to it, all the Land which his Father had before vowed to bestow upon it. This as our Chronicles relate happened about the Year MXLIII. The Great Tower, which stands in the middle of the Fabrick is somewhat too low, but would admit of a Superstructure, which is all that seems wanting to render it more august.

If we take a more particular View of the inside we shall find it handsomely ornamented, and not without several Curiosities, as well as a great Number of noble and antient Monuments.

On the North side of the Nave of the Church there stands a very antique Font. 'Tis a large Square Stone, a sort of black Marble, in which is cut a circular Basin for the Water, and is supported by a plain Stone Pedestal, being 3 Foot 3 Inches over. The Sides of the Square are set off with Bas-relieves; representing probably the Miracles of some Saint belonging to this Church. The Work I esteem not later than the Saxon times, and might probably bably have been removed hither from the old Monastery ; the different Views of which I have here inserted, for the Satisfaction of the Curious.

In the South Cross there is an old Tomb of WILL. de BASYNGE, sometime Prior of this Church, an Indulgence is granted for 3 Years and 50 Days, to all who shall pray for his Soul, as is mentioned upon his Tomb.
There were two Priors successively of this Name ; the first died † A. C. 1288.
the second 1295.

Under the Stairs leading up to the Organ, there is a Bust (by Tradition) of ETHELMARUS the Bishop, who died A. C. 1261. who, nevertheless, seems to have been interred in another Place ; for I find his Heart was buried in the South Wall of the Presbytery, where this Inscription is still visible.

We are now approaching to the Choir, to which from the Nave of the Church, there is a handsom Ascent of Steps; it is separated from the rest of the Church by a beautiful Frontispiece of Stone built between the two great Pillars of the Arch of the Tower. 'Tis of the Composite Order, and on each side of the Gate, which is arched, there is a Niche; in that on the North, is placed a Statue of King CHARLES I. in the other on the South side, that of King JAMES I. both in Brass, and well performed : These Statues, during the Civil Wars, lay concealed, and by that Means escaped the Fury of the Rebels, who committed many Outrages on this Church, too long to be here related. This Structure was erected by King CHARLES I. who was a great Benefactor to this and many other Churches. As soon as you enter you see the Seats or Stalls of the Dean and Prebendaries, which are very neat but antient, and adorned with Spire-Work gilded. In the middle of the Choir there is an Eagle standing on a high Pedestal all of Brass, on which the Lessons are read at Divine Service.

At the upper End, on the South side, there is a new Throne, which was built for the present Bishop, the Right Reverend Father in God, Sir JONATHAN TRELAWNEY. The Pediment, which is adorned with a Mitre, and the Arms of the See, impailing
those of his Family, is supported by Fluted Columns of the Corinthian Order.

Altar is a raised Monument of greyish

LIAM RUFUS, before it was broke open, and rifled in the late Rebellion.

On each fide of the Altar there is a fine Partition-Wall curiously wrought in Stone, which composes the Two Sides of the Presbytery that separate it from the North and South Isles ; on the Top of each Wall, which is of a considerable Height, are placed three Shrines or Chests finely carved, painted and gilded, with a Crown upon each ; in which are deposited the Bones of several of the West-Saxon Kings, Bishops, and some later Princes ; which had been buried in divers Parts of the Church, and were thus carefully collected and preserved with honourable Mention of their Names on each Shrine in Letters of Gold, by RICHARD FOX, Bishop of Winton, who died A. C. 1528. and lies interred under a fair Monument, on the South fide of the high Altar, now called Fox's Chapel. It was this Bishop who covered

The Ascent to the Altar, of Marble Steps, and the Pavement are very curious, being inlaid with different co-lour'd Marbles in various Figures.
The Altar Piece is a very handsom
Design of Wood-Work, which forms a lofty Canopy, projecting over the Table, with vast Festoons hanging down from it, and all over beautified with exquisite Foliage. Behind this, there is a very high Skreen or Partition of Stone, the Work of Bishop Fox, full of Antique Carving and Niches, where demolished, the Vacancies are filled with large Vases or Urns, which add an extraordinary Grandeur to the whole. This Ornament was the Gift of WILLIAM HARRIS, D. D. who by his Will bequeathed eight hundred Pounds towards it, A. C. 1700.

Leaving the Choir, and passing by Bishop Fox's Oratory, we ascend the Great Area at the East End of the Church, which Place in Antient times was esteemed very sacred, for under it was the Κοιμητήριον, or Resting place, of the Saints and Kings, who were interred there, with great Honours; at present, behind the High Altar there is a transverse Wall, against which we see the Marks, where several of their Statues, being very small, were placed with their Names under each Pedestal, being in a Row.

The Great East Window is very remarkable for the Antiquity and Fineness of its painted Glass, which contains the Portraits of several Saints and Bishops of this Church, and is very entire, as well as that at the West Front, being in like manner curiously painted; which Art is now almost extinguished. All that may be farther added to the Description of the Church, I shall conclude, in its Dimensions; which being already taken by the Earl of Clarendon, are in Page 25. of the following Work.

This Cathedral was at first dedicated to St. PETER, afterwards, * A.C. DCCCCLXXX. to St. SWITHUN, and a third time to the Holy Trinity, by King HENRY VIII. at the Reformation, A. C. MDXL.

* The. Rudborne Hist. major Wint. p. 223.

The Bishops of Winton had formerly an antient Castle or Palace in the City, called Wolveseye, which was † built by HENRY de BLOYS, Bishop of this See, Nephew to K. HENRY I. and Brother to K. STEPHEN, A. C. 1138. This Palace being demolished during the late Civil Wars, and nothing left but the high Walls of the old Chapel; Bishop M O R L E Y, after the Restauration, built a fair and convenient House for his Successors, that which we now see near the Ruins of the old one, and to which the present Bishop, Sir JONATHAN TRE-LAWNEY, hath added very great Improvements.

About a Mile South from the City, there is a very Noble Hospital, which † Theo. Rudborne Hist. major Wint. p. 284.

34 The History and Antiquities of the contains two Squares of Building, to which you enter by very magnificent Gates. In the innermost Court is the great Church belonging to it, built like a Cathedral, which also was † founded and endowed, A. C. 1138. by the above-mentioned HENRY de BLOYS, by the Name of St. Cross; for the Relief of Thirteen Brothers, and all poor Travellers daily for ever. The Habit is a black Gown, with a Silver Cross on the Breast. The Structure is in good Repair, and its Revenue well managed.

This Bishop also began to build the stately || Castle and Palace at Farnham
in Surrey; the Castles of Merton, Wan- tham, Dunton, and Tanton, the same Year.

Another antient Palace belonging to the See, was that of Winchester-House in Southmark, built by WILLIAM GYF-FARD, Bishop, in the Reign of King HENRY I. It is situated on the Bank of the Thames, near the West End of St. MARY OVERIES Church, but is now gone to Decay, and divided into several Tenements. † This Bishop also founded the said Church of St. MARY of Southmark, for Canons Regular, A. C. MCVI.

Another ancient Palace belonging to the See, was that of Wyndham House in Southwark, built by William Tyrard, Bishop, in the Reign of King Henry I. It is situated on the bank of the Thames, near the West End of St. Mary Overies Church, but is now gone to Decay, and divided into several Tenements. The Bishop also founded the said Church of St. Mary of Southwark, for Canon Regular, A.C. 1071.

CATHEDRAL.

From the Altar, on the Top of the Wall,
are now Six Chests, Three on either Side; wherein are the Bones of some Saxon and Danish Kings, as also of some Bishops.

On the South Side, the First Chest hath
this Inscription.

The Third Chest did formerly contain the Bones of CANUTUS and WILLIAM RUFUS.
The Tomb for the latter, of Gray Marble, is raised about Two Foot from the Pavement in the middle of the upper part of the Quire, before the High Altar, and his Bones being Chested, were set up over the Door on the Top of the Wall, on the South Side as you come into the Quire. On that Chest was formerly this Inscription.

hic jacent Ossa Cnutonis et Willielmi Rufi.

And lately this Inscription is put thereon,

In hac et altera è regione cistâ, ossa sunt Cnuti et Rufi Regum; Emma Regina, Wina et Alnulphi Episcoporum.

In the Tomb of WILLIAM RUFUS, which was broke open by the Rebels in the Time of the Civil Wars, was found the Dust of that King, some Relicks of Cloth of Gold, a large Gold Ring, and a small Silver Chalice.

On the North Side are likewise Three Chests on the Top of the Wall. The First from the Altar, hath this Inscription upon it.

Rex Ringulstus obiit 641.

On the Quire Side of the same Chest,

Adulphus obiit 859.

On the Quire Side,

Egbertus obiit 837.

Hic Rex Egbertus pascit cum Rege Kenulpho

Nobis egregie munera uterq; tulit.

The Third Chest contained formerly the Bones of Bishop WINA, with this Inscription :

Hic jacent Ossa Winae Episcopi.

With Bishop WINA's, was enclos'd the Body of STIGAND, first Bishop of Winchester, then Arch-Bishop of Canterbury; and on the North-Side of the Coffin was this Inscription :

Hic jacet Stigandus Archiepiscopus.

But now this Inscription is upon it:

In hac cislâ A. D. 1661. promiscuè recondita sunt Offa Principum & Prælatorum, Sacrile-gâ barbarie dispersa, A. D. 1642.

Under the Second Chest on the South-Wall,
is this Inscription:

Intus est Corpus Ricardi, Willielmi Con-questoris Filii, & Beorniae Ducis.

On the same Wall is entombed the Heart of ETHELMARUS Bishop of Winchester, with
this Inscription:

Obiit Anno 1261.

Corpus Ethelmar, cuius cor nunc tenet istud Saxum, Parisiis morte datur tumulo.

From the Westward in the same Wall, is
this Inscription:

Intus est Cor. Nicholai olim Winton, Episcopi, cuius corpus est apud Waverly.

In the same South-Wall, Eastward, lies the Body of RICHARD FOX Bishop of Winche- ster, by whose Care the Bones of the Saxon Kings were chested. He was Founder of *above mentioned, under a Shrine which is

Corpus Christi College in Oxford, and a great Benefactor in repairing the upper Part of this Quire. Relays to the Shrine

Near unto this Monument, is a small private Oratory, which he usually frequented for his Devotion, and which is still called Bishop FOX his Study.

On the North-Side of the Wall was formerly a fourth Chest, containing the Bones of Bishop ELMSTAN and Bishop KYNULPHUS, with this Inscription:

Pontifices haec capsula duos tenet incineratos
Primus Elmstanus, huic successorq; Kynulphus.

Bishop ALFIMUS his Monument was on the same Wall Eastward from Bishop ELMSTON, with this Inscription:

Alfymus plumbo praelul requiescit in isto.

Under KINGULSTUS's Chest in the same Wall, is this Inscription:

Qui jacet hic Regni Sceptrum tulit hardi-canutus

Emmae Cnutonis gnatus & ipse fuit.

Obist A. D. 1111^o.

In

Cathedral Church of WINCHESTER. 31

In the same Wall, this:

Alwinus obiit, A. D. 1407.

hic jacet Alwini corpus, qui munera nobis Contulit Egregia, parvito Chiste pio.

In the same Wall within the Quire, is this Inscription for Queen EMMA.

hic Emmam cista Reginam continet ista,
Duxit Etheldredus Rex hanc, & postea
Cnutus;

Edwardum parit haec, ac Hardi-canutum Quatuor hos Reges haec vidit Sceptra tenentes;

Anglorum Regum fuit haec sic Mater &
Uxor.

In the same Wall without the Quire, East- ward, lieth the Body of STEPHEN GARD-NER, sometime Bishop of Winchester.

This Monument was much abused in the Times of the late Rebellion.

Under the Monument of Bishop ALFIMUS,
on the North-Side, was this Inscription:

Defuncti corpus tumulus tenet iste Johannis Pointes, Wintoniae Praesulis eximii.

Obiit Anno 1304.

In

In the Wall on the North-Side, under the Chest of WINA, is the Monument of Bishop TOLLYNE, with this Inscription :

Praesulis egregii ponsant hic Membra Ricardi

Tollyne, cui summi gaudia sunt polli.

Obiit Anno 1184.

Behind the Quire, on the North-Side, lieth a Warlike Person, whose Figure is much defaced, with this Inscription :

Hic jacet Willielmus Comes de Insula Mana alias Wineall.

On the North-Side, under the Stairs which lead to the Organ, was found some few Years since, the Heart (as is supposed) of HUGH LE BRUNE, sometime Prior of St. Swithin's, in a Box of Tin. His Effigies in Stone is now upon the Place where the Heart was deposited.

In the utmost Wall of the Quire Eastward, was the Entrance into the Vault, in which the Saxon Kings were first buried. Over it is this Inscription :

Sanda Maria, & Dominus Iesus.

On

On one Side of the Entrance are these Names :

Alfredus Rex	S. Birinus Episcopus
Alfredus Rex	Egbertus Rex
Alfredus Rex	Alfredus Rex filius ejus
Edwardus Rex Senior	Athelstanus Rex filius ejus.

On the other Side the Entrance, are these Names :

Edmundus Rex. Edgar Rex. Emma Regina. Alwinus Episcopus.
Ethelredus Rex. S. Edwardus Rex filius ejus. Canutus Rex.
Hardi-Canutus filius ejus.

Our cell here is a little Underneath, is this Inscription ; as a tablet.

Corpora Sandozum sunt hic in pace Sepulta
Ex meritis quorum fulgent miracula multa.

In the Middle of the Space above the Quire, is a Monument raised somewhat higher than the Pavement, said to be that of LUCIUS the first Christian King ; but there is no Inscription upon it.

On the South-Side of that Space, behind the High Altar, is erected to the Memory of HENRY BEAUFORT, Cardinal of St. EUSEBIUS, and Bishop of Winchester, a fair and stately exalted Monument, with his Effigies in his Habit ; the Inscription is now wholly obliterated, this being all that appear'd legible above a hundred Years ago.

...Tribularer si nescirem misericordias tuas.

He deceased upon the 11th Day of April, Anno 1447, having been Bishop of Winchester 43 Years, and from the Time of his first Consecration 50 Years.

Among other good Deeds, it is to be remembered that he built an Hospital in Winchester, near St. CROSSE's, which he presently endow'd with Land, to the Value of 158 l. 13 s. 4 d. of yearly Rent, and, moreover, gave unto it the Hospital of St. John de Fordingbridge. Going down from the South-Door of the Quire, at the Bottom of the Steps, on the left Hand, are two old Monuments; the one hath no Inscription, the other has this about it:

Hic jacet Willielmus de Basing, quondam Prior istius Ecclesie, cujus animæ propitiatur Deus, & qui pro anima ejus oraverit, tres annos & quinquaginta dies Indulgentiæ percipiet.

said by mistake, that he lies in the Chapel in the South Isle, called Lichfield Chapel. See Mr. abb. vol. 1. 381

Cathedral Church of WINCHESTER. 37

(At the End of the Cross Isle, Southwards, is the Chapter-House; above Stairs, are the Library and Audit-House, built in 1668.)

(At the Entrance into the Quire, at the great Door, on one Side, is the Statue of K. JAMES in Brass: On the other Side, that of K. CHARLES the first, in whose Time this Screen was erected.)

In the Body of the Church, near the Pulpit, is a Stone with this Inscription:

Willimus King smell prior ultimus, Decanus
primus Ecclesiae Obiit 1548.

Likewise upon a flat Marble Stone, near the Pulpit, is this Inscription:

Robertus Horne Theologiae Doctor
eximius, quondam Christi causa exul, deinde Episcopus Winton.
pie obiit in Domino Jun. 1. 1580.
Episcopatus sui Anno 19.

Upon another Marble Stone, opposite to the former, is this Inscription:

The figure is remarkably fresh & well preserved. But the stone was much damaged by the Puritans. It is erected in the place where Bydham, who was long, presented a Mass, celebrated at an altar standing on this spot.

Next to the Countess of Exeter's Monument, on the South-Side of the upper Part of the Cathedral Church, under a black Marble Stone, lies buried the Lord HENRY POWLETT, with these Arms, viz. 3 Daggers with the Pointsdownwards. The Crest, is a Faulcon with a Coronet round his Neck, and a Bell on each Leg, with a Mantling round the Coat, and an half Moon between two of the Daggers, and the following Inscription.

*Hic Conditum sub hoc

Henrici
Powlett. Evocati ex
Hac Vita 11^o. die Maii Anno Dom. 1672.*

Next to him lies Sir THOMAS HIGGONS under a large Stone, with these Arms, viz. Three Eagles Heads erased in the Field, and this Inscription.

Here lieth the Body of Sir Thomas Higgons,
who died the 24th
of November, 1692.

And

And on the South Side lies the Countess of Essex under a grey Marble with two Coats of Arms, viz. Essex's impaling Pow-

Some ACCOUNT
OF THE
BISHOPS, PRIORS, DEANS, and PREBENDARIES
OF THE
SEE of WINCHESTER.

BISHOPS.

BIRINUS was made Bishop of this See about the Year 635, and died about the Year 650.
Agilbertus about the Year 650 was made Bishop here, by King Kynewaldus. Upon the Expulsion of this Bishop, who was drove into France, his own Country, where he was afterwards made Arch-Bishop of Paris.

Wina

92 BISHOPS of Winchester.

Wina, a Monk of this Place, succeeded in 662, or, according to Cardinal Beaufort's Register, in 650, and being drove hence, he became the first Instance of a Simoniack, in England, by Purchasing of the Bishoprick of London, from Wulphere King of the Mercians.

Elutherius, after a Vacancy of 4 Years, was consecrated Bishop of this See, by Theodorus Archbishop of Canterbury, at the Request of the late expelled Bishop Agilbert; he continued here about seven Years, and died in 674.

Headda, or Hedda, in 673, He translated the Body of Sr. Birinus, and the See, hither in 676, and died about 703.

Daniel, succeeded in 704, sat 42 Years, and by Reason of his old Age, finding his inability to govern, he resigned his Bishoprick in 741, and became a Monk of Malmsbury in Wiltshire, where he died in 745.

Humfridus succeeded in 744, and governed here eight Years, and died Anno 756.

Kinebard, succeeded in 754, or 756, according to Cardinal Beaufort's Register.

Athelard, Abbot of Malmsbury, translated to Canterbury, Anno 790, or, according to Beaufort's Register, in 794.

Egbaldus.

Dudda.

Kynebrthus,

BISHOPS of Winchester. 93

Kynebirtbus, Anno 799, went to Rome, with Athelardus, then Arch-Bishop of Canterbury.

Almund, was Bishop here in 803, he sitting in that Capacity in the Council of Clives-Ho.

Wigthenius, sat in the Council of Clives-Ho in 824, and died before 829.

Herefridus was killed in a Battle against the Danes, together with Sigelm Bishop of Sherburn, Anno 833, tho' Beaufort's Register says, 834.

Edmund, was Bishop here in 836, for a very short Time, and died in 852.

Helmstan succeeded, and was Tutor to Ethelwolf, youngest Son of King Egbert. He was a Monk of Winchester, and recommended his Royal Pupil to St. Swithin, then Prior here; from whom he received the Habit of a Monk, and was afterwards admitted into the Order of Sub-Deacons, by him. He died Anno 837.

Ethelwolf succeeded his Tutor here, for about seven Years, was a great Benefactor to the Church and Monastery, and by the Dispensation of Pope Leo, was taken hence to be crowned King of England, after the Death of his Father, whose Place he filled two and twenty Years.

Swithun succeeded in 852, and died in 862.

He is said to have been Lord Chancellour of 94 BISHOPS of Winchester.

of England; and has many trifling Miracles recorded as performed by him, from Matthew Westminster.

Adfertus succeeded in 862, or (according to Beaufort's Register) in 863, and was translated to Canterbury.

Dumbertus succeeded, and gave the Mannor of Stushelyng to the building of this Church, and died in 879.

Denewulph, a Swine-herd, who liv'd in the Place where the celebrated Abby of Athelney in Somersetshire afterwards stood. The Story runs, that he preserved for some Time, King Alfred in a Disguise, whom the Victorious Danes had forced to great Streights. In this Concealment the King is pretended to have been his Tutor, and to have then fitted him for what he afterwards promoted him to, viz. this See, which he did, after a great Victory obtained over the Danes, and Resettlement in his Throne, as a Piece of Gratitude to him for his late Favours. The ridiculousness of this Fable will easily appear to any the least skilled in Chronology. He governed this Diocese 24 Years, and at his Death was buried in his own Church.

Athelmus succeeded in 880, and in Anno 888 went to Rome to carry a present from King Alfred.

Bertulfus

BISHOPS of Winchester. 95

Bertulfus in 897, he is said to have been, with many more, constituted a Guardian of the Kingdom, by King Alfred, against the Danes.

Brithestane was consecrated in 905, sat many Years here, resigned Anno 931, and died in 932.

Brinstan was Bishop in 931, and died in 934.

Elphegus Calvus, a Monk of Glastenbury, to the great Satisfaction of the Clergy, King, and People, succeeded in 934, and died in 951 (or according to Beaufort's Register, 946.)

Elfinus, or Alfinus succeeded in 946, afterwards by Bribes and Simony removed himself to Canterbury.

Brithelmus succeeded in 958, and died Anno 963.

Ethelwald, consecrated on St. Andrew's Eve, 963, by St. Dunstan, then Arch-Bishop of Canterbury; under whose Government he was when a Monk of Glastenbury, from whence he became Abbot of Abingdon, and after nineteen Years Government here, he died Aug. 1. 984, and was buried here, on the North side of the High Altar.

Elphegus Abbot of Bath, consecrated Novem. 984, and installed on St. Simon and Jude's Day following, translated to Canterbury in 1006.

Kemulphus

96 BISHOPS of Winchester.

Kenulphus alias Elsus, in 1006, who dying was buried in this Cathedral, in 1008.

Brithwold alias Ethelwold, succeeded in 1008, who dying in 1013, was buried in this Cathedral.

Alsimus, Chaplain to King Harold, by whom he was advanced to this See, in 1015, where he sat twenty two Years, and was translated to Canterbury.

Alwyn, a Monk of Winchester, was consecrated in 1038, died, and was buried here, 1047.

Stigand, Chaplain to Edward the Confessor, made Bishop of Elmham, then removed to Norwich, where a powerful Rival displaced him, from whom he shortly after recovered it again; from thence he was translated hither, in 1047, which he held with Canterbury, in 1052. These two Sees were deemed incompatible to be held together, and the tenure of them judged illegal: So that this Arch-Bishop and Bishop, being deprived in 1069, he died a Prisoner in the Castle belonging to this City, and was buried with one of his Predecessors, Bishop Wina.

Walkelin, Chaplain, and a Relation to William the Conqueror, a Norman by Birth, (on the Deprivation of Stigand,) was nominated on Whit Sunday, 1070, and consecrated the William Giffard, nominated 1100. (the See being kept in the King's Hands from 1098.) but not Consecrated, upon Account of a Quarrel between this King and Anselm, Arch-bishop of Canterbury, till 1107. Here he sat 21 Years, during which he built a House, formerly the Seat of the Bishops of this See, in Southwark, near London, in Surrey, which being now converted into Streets of Dwelling-Houses, is a Revenue appropriated to this See. He died Jan. 25, 1128. and was buried in his own Cathedral.

Henry de Blois, Brother of King Stephen, first Abbot of Bermondsey, then of Glastenbury, and nominated to this Bishoprick in Octob. 1129. and consecrated here by William, Arch-bishop of Canterbury, on Nov. 17. following. He was a firm Friend to his Brother, and 1141 made use of the Church's Thunder against the Empress, the true Heiress of the Crown. The burning of the City, Monastery, and 20 other Churches, is laid to his Charge, the Spoils of which he is said to have put in his own Pocket. The HISTORY of HYDE-ABBEEY.

NExt to the Cathedral Church of Winchester, the Abbey of Hyde deserves an especial Remembrance, on Account of its being originally founded within the Precincts of the Cathedral Cœmity, where it continued for 200 Years 'till it was from thence transplanted to Hyde.

The first Denomination this Monastery had, was Newminster, to distinguish it from the Cathedral called in those Days Oldminster after the building of this; which Name it lost on its Removal, which was occasioned by the Differences the too near Neighbourhood these great Churches bred.

This Foundation was began by K. Edward the Elder, in pursuance of his Father K. Alfred's Will, in which at the finishing and Consecration of the same, Anno 903, he placed secular Canons, designing to appoint S. Grimbald to preside over them, but his Death prevented it. These, after 60 Years Continuance, were turned out to give Place to Monks, An. 964, by Athelwold Bishop of Winchester, and the College changed into a Monastery; the Abbots of which styled of Newminster, before the Translation of it to Hyde, as before observed, (which was done by K. Henry I. and William Giffard Bishop of Winchester) had large Privileges, as being honour'd with a Mitre, and having Place in Parliament as Peers of the Realm, &c. Neither were their Revenues less considerable; for a little before the Dissolution, An. 26 Hen. 8. the Lands of this Monastery were rated at 865 l. 18 s. per Annum.

But besides the Founder, K. Athelstan, K. Edmund, K. Edred, K. Edgar, K. Edmund Ironside, K. Edward the Confessor, K. William the Conqueror, and particularly K. Henry I. and Q. Maud, (as appears by the Charters in the Monasticon) were great Benefactors. However, this House was not without its Misfortunes; for William the Conqueror at his first coming, finding the Abbot and 12 of his Monks in Arms against him, seized upon their Estate, and held it above two Years; and in the Reign of K. Stephen, Henry de Blois his Brother, then Bishop of Winchester, was so oppressive, that he got from the Monks almost all their Church-Plate, and dispersed them so, that of 40 Monks there remained but 10.

In this Abbey were buried, before the Removal of it to Hyde, K. Edward, and his Son Prince Alfred, and S. Eadburga, Daughter of K. Edward the Founder, and Alfred Son of K. Edulf, whose Remains were, no doubt, translated to Hyde. But of all these and divers other memorable Persons interred there, viz. at Hyde, are not the least Remains; and of the Grandeur of this magnificent Abbey, is nothing left but the Name, the very Ruins being as it were perished, and not so much as the Walls standing of this goodly Church, which stood just without the City-Gate, and was dedicated to the Holy Trinity, S. Peter, and S. Grimbald.

Touching the Names of those who have been Abbots hereof, I shall in like Manner, as done before of the Bishops, &c. of Winchester, subjoin a Catalogue, which because they sat at Newminster, before at Hyde, I shall divide the Series into Two Parts, viz. of Newminster and Hyde.

Abbots

ABBEOTS of Newminster.

1. A Thelgarus, An. 964, was made by Bishop Athelwold the first Abbot, He was promoted to the Bishoprick of Selfey, An. 980. and 8 Years after removed to the Arch-Bishoprick of Canterbury; but 2 Years before his Translation to Selfey.
2. Alsinus, An. 978, became Abbot; he sat 'till the Year 995, when
3. Brightwoldus was instituted, which he held 'till 1008, in which Year.
4. Brithmerus occurs; after whom
5. Alnothus, Anno 1021, to whom succeeded
6. Alwynus, Anno 1035, and
7. Alfnotus, An. 1057; upon whose Death or Resignation,
8. Alwynus, An. 1063, call'd in the Monasticon: — Godwin, Uncle to Harold, afterwards K. of England, was preferred to the Abbacy. This Person, An. 1066, appearing in behalf of his Nephew K. Harold in Arms against the Norman Invasion, with 12 of his Monks, was slain in the Field of Battel, which so enraged the Conqueror, that he for some Time held this Abbey in his Hands, but at length restoring it.
9. Wlfric or Wulveric, An. 1069, was constituted Abbot, who being deposed, An. 1071,
10. Rualdus, call'd in the Annales Winton Revalanus, An. 1071, succeeded, he occurs Abbot, An. 1078, after whom I find
11. Radulfus said to be Abbot, upon whose Death, which happen'd An. 1087, as the Annals of Winton inform us, K. William Rufus committed this Abbey to Ralph Passeflabere, his Chaplain for some Time;

ABBOTS of Newminster. 141

Time; but not long after, viz. An. 1091, this Abbacy was bought of the King by Herbert first Bishop of Norwich for his Father.

12. Robert de Lofinga, which occasioned this Verse, Filius est Presul, Pater Abbas, Simon uterque, alluding to the Simony; how long he held it, I find not, or whether on his Death, which is likely; but Passeslabere, to whom the King committed all vacant Preferments for his Use, obtained the Custody of it a 2d Time; and held it An. 1100, when, upon the Accession of Henry I. to the Crown, this Ralph Passeslabere, for several illegal Practices, was thrown into Prison, and 13. Hugh, Monk of this Place, was appointed Abbot. After whom, An. 1106,

14. Galfridus occurs Abbot; in whose Time, An. 1121, this Abbey was, as aforesaid, removed to Hyde, and the Abbots from henceforth entituled

ABBOTS of Hyde.

15. The first of which, after the Death of Galfridus, was Osbertus, An. 1124, who succeeding three Years after the Removal, took Care of compleating what his Predecessor had begun. He died An. 1135, the first of K. Stephen. After his Death, this Monastery was much oppress'd by Henry de Blois, Bishop of Winchester, as aforesaid, who appointed, says the Monasticon,

16. Hugh Schorchewyleyn Abbot hereof. This Hugh, called in the Annals of Winton, Hugh de Lens, was much accused and appealed against, as was the Bishop who endeavoured to pervert the State of the Abbey; and about the Year 1143, tried to prevail with the Pope to make his See an Arch-Bishoprick, and this Abbey a Bishoprick, and subject that and Chichester to it. These Controversies,

- verfies againſt the Biſhop and Abbot, ended in depoſing Abbot Hugh, Anno 1149. after whom
17. Salidus was Abbot; after whoſe Death, which is ſaid to happen 1171, 18. Thomas Prior of Montacute was elected Abbot, tho' I have not ſeen that he was conſecrated ſo before the Year 1174. He reſigned An. 1180, and
 19. John Prior of Cluny ſucceeded, who dying A. 1222.
 20. Walter de Aſtone was made Abbot, he died An. 1249, and
 21. Roger de S. Waleric the ſame Year was elected Abbot; upon whoſe Death, An. 1263,
 22. William de Wigornia ſucceeded; he died An. 1282, and
 23. Robert de Popham became Abbot, as did
 24. Simon de Caninges, An. 1292. upon whoſe Death, Anno 1304,
 25. Geffry de Ferynges ſucceeded; and on his Surrender or Reſignation, An. 1317,
 26. Will. de Odiham was elected Abbot; but he held it not long, for An. 1319.
 27. Walter de Fiſhyde ſucceeded him; how long he held it, I have not ſeen, but
 28. Thomas Peithy, An. 1362, occurs Abbot, on whoſe Death or Surrender, 29. John Eynesſham, about the Year 1381, was made Abbot; he died An. 1394, and
 30. John Letcombe or Lattecombe ſucceeded, after whom
 31. John London, An. 1407, occurs Abbot, who dying An. 1413,
 32. Nicholas Strode was elected Abbot next, after whom I find
 33. Thomas Bromele, An. 1440, to occur Abbot, which he held 'till about the Year 1460, when

ABBOTS of Hyde. 143

34. Henry Bonville occurs Abbot, who was succeeded by
35. ~~Thomas Wyrscetur~~, An. 1471, on the 1st Day of December; when he died, I find not, but An. 1480. he occurs Abbot, and so probably did till the Year 1485. when
36. Thomas Forte was elected Abbot, which he held not long; for An. 1489, 37. Richard Hall was elected Abbot, he occurs Abbot Ann. 1500, and probably continued so for near 40 Years; for after him I find no other Abbot, before the Year 1528. about which time,
38. John Salcor, alias Capon, a Doctor of Divinity of Cambridge was translated from the Abbey of ~~Hulme~~ in Norfolk to this Place. He was the last Abbot; and (as a Reward for having been very instrumental in procuring in his own University the passing the King's Divorce) An. 1534. April 19. he obtain'd to hold with this Abbacy in Commendam the Bishoprick of Bangor; and for his good Services at the Dissolution, An. 1539, and readily yielding his Abbey to the King, in the Surrender of which he procured his Monks, 21 in Number, to join, he was promoted to the Bishoprick of Salisbury, which he held for 20 Years, not dying, it seems, till the Year 1559.

The Arms of Hyde-Abbey were Argent, a Lion rampant Sable, on a Chief of the Second, two Keys indorsed Argent.
